MOBILE COUNTY SHERIFF INPEACHED

SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS DECISION OF LOWER COURT

The Proceedings Instituted By
The Governor, in Which An Appeal Was Taken.

The Supreme Court of Alabama rendered a decision today affirming the decision of the lower court impeaching Sheriff Cazalas of Mobile County. The Governor instituted impeachment proceedings against Sheriff Cazalas in connection with the recent lynchings in Mobile. When the court impeached the Sheriff, the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, and today that body upheld the decision.

CONVICT ESCAPES AND TAKES THE DOGS

Troy, June 2.—John A. Adams, white convict at the Pike county convict camp, with nine months service yet before him, escaped from camp yesterday, taking the county's dogs with him. He was a trusty.

No trace has been found of the fugitive or dogs. County officials believe he has killed the blood-hounds.

Many of our citizens are drifting towards Bright's disease by neglecting symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble which Foley's Remedy will quickly cure. N. H. tention. Rapport Music Co.

SEVERE STORM NEAR BLAKELY

A day or two ago a severe storm visited the country near Blakely. Mr. Frank Grimsley's house was destroyed and Mr.
Grimsley and his mother-in-law, Mrs. West was the most severely hurt, being completely disabled.

DEVELOPING THE WATER POWERS

OF GEORGIA AND ALABAMA.

The Week's Most Prominent Feature of Industrial News.

Perhaps the most prominent feature of the industrial news for the past week in Georgia and Alabama was the information of several large companies to develop water powers in different sections of the two states. At Elberton a power company was chartered with $3,000,000 capital stock, and Abbeville Ala., and Geneva, Ala., both report new $400,000 corporations, which propose to develop water-power and transmit it in the form of electricity to various cities and towns in that section for industrial use. Surveys have just been made of water powers on the Alpharetta river near Valdesta and it is stated that their development is practically assured. The water power of the Towaliga river will be still further developed for the use of Griffin Ga. industries the recent filing of a $100,000 mortgage being an incident in the process of procuring the desired capital. Application was filed for a charter for a new railroad from Moultrie for a distance of forty miles, the $100,000 of capital stock in the new corporation being taken by business men of that section of Georgia. Contracts for grading the new Rome and Northern railroad, chartered last week, has already been awarded and the Michigan capitalists who are building the road have concluded negotiations for the purchase of a $150, 000 furnace near Rome, Ga.

A dozen new corporations are reported for the week with capital stock of $5,169,000. Among the new companies is one at Elli-jay organized for mining and real-estate purposes with capital stock of $2,000,000.

Savannah has called an election on the issuance of $350,000 of sewer bonds, and Forsythe voted $15,000 of bonds for the installation of a sewerage system in that town. Ensley, Ala., which voted $175,000 of improvement bonds a few days ago has already disposed of the entire issue to New York investors at a satisfactory price.
Warren county Georgia, will vote on the issuance of court house and jail bonds.

At Tuscaloosa, Ala., there was awarded the contract for the erection of a handsome and thoroughly modern seven-story office building or reinforced concrete.
Contract was awarded to erect a $30,000 church at Oxford and Ely-ton Ala. will erect a $15,000 church.

Quite an interesting incident was the shipment of a solid trainload of Alabama-made cast iron pipe from Bessemer to Arizona. Real estate continues lively and at an auction sale of residential lots in Atlanta $107,000 of lots was sold.
Contract was let at Donaldsonville for the erection of a fertilizer plant and oil mill. A new bank is reported for Tugaloo. East Lake, Ala., is inviting proposals on much street and sidewalk paying—Georgia and Alabama Industrial Index.

SHOOTING AT MILLVILLE

BARNIE HUTCHISON W A WORTHINGTON

Former Uses 38 Calibre Revolver on the Latter With Deadly Aim

Night before last about nine o'clock, Barrie Hutchison shot and killed W. A. Worthington at Millville.

The shooting occurred at Worthington's house. The trouble was over Worthington's wife, Hutchison shooting the latter with a 38 calibre revolver.

A WORD OF WARNING

A word of warning might not be out of place to those who go out to the Gulf for bathing. Last year one or two persons came very near drowning there. It is reported that some parties came very near drowning there the other day. The tide is treacherous, and the undercurrent uncertain. The best swimmers may be swept out and beyond aid. There are no danger lines, nor ropes stretched, as yet, and it has already been predicted that some one will drown there this summer. This is the time to figure on it—not after the rolling billows get you.

CITY MARKET FOR DOTHAN

REPORT ON IT TO BE MADE MONDAY NIGHT

Committee Appointed Has Matter in Hand—Council to Decide

Dothan is to have a city market just like Atlanta and all other places this size. The council has just about decided on the question but final action has not been taken.

A committee composed of Mr.
C. C. Hughes, chairman, J. W.
Grant, H. Winford, W. C. Fenn and B. R. Fisher has the matter in hand.

If anybody has any kick to make on establishing this market let them see this committee before Monday night or forever after hold their peace.

The market, if established, will probably be located on the corner of St. Andrews and Troy streets, where it was proposed to build an opera house.

Miss Ophelia Hunter and Miss Winne Saxon have returned from Macon, where they have been attending Wesleyan college.

Mrs. Camp Blackwell of Columbia was in Dothan a short while today on her way to Marianna.

W. S. HARLAN MUST SUFFER IMPRISONMENT

Washington, June 2.—Senators Bankhead and Johnston were today officially informed by letter from the Attorney General, that after all the evidence had been carefully gone over in the case of W. S. Harlan, of Lockhart, Covington county, Alabama, the department of justice could see no reason why the sentence of the Federal Court in the peonage case against Harlan should not be carried out and an order to that effect had therefore, been sent revoking the order to hold up the mandate for the time being.

The matter has also been reported to President Taft. The Alabama and Florida Senators have an appointment to see the President tomorrow morning. They, of course will endeavor to secure executive clemency for Mr. Harlan.
If they are not successful the execution of the sentence and fine imposed by the court at Pensacola will have to be carried out—Alfred J. Stofer in Special to Advertiser.

AN ERROR.

In reporting the dinner given the old Confederate veterans the other day at Hotel Mullen we were in error, it seems. The money for the dinner, or at least a part of it, was made up by public subscriptions, coming from the various citizens of Dothan, and they,
of course, would have the credit for contributing to the feast.

A TEMPERANCE TALE.

The new and very stringent prohibitory law which goes into effect in Kansas has revived an old story on the subject, says the Kansas City Journal. A stranger went into a Kansas drug store and asked for some whiskey.

"I can't sell you any whiskey," said the druggist.

"But I'm sick," persisted the stranger.

"That won't help any," replied the druggist. "It don't make any difference. I can't sell you any whiskey for being sick."

"Well, what can you sell it to me for?" asked the stranger.

"The only thing we can sell whiskey for in this town," said the druggist, "is for snake bites. Hold up now, don't ask me where to get bitten. No use. There is only one snake in town, and he is engaged for three weeks ahead."

Miss Katharine Gardner, who has been visiting Mrs. A. Y. Malone for a few days, returned to her home at Troy this afternoon.

Mr. P. L. Clendinen went to Abbeville this morning.

MILEAGE REGULATION UPHOLD BY HINES.

Upon the request of the Georgia State Railroad Commission, Special Attorney James K. Hines has given an interesting opinion in regard to the complaints made by the traveling public as to the exchange of mileage book coupons for straight tickets at railway agencies. Attorney Hines holds that the railroads' regulation for the presentation and exchange of coupons for mileage is entirely reasonable.

Attorney Hines was asked by the Commission to furnish an opinion upon the right of a common carrier to expect a passenger, who had failed to comply with its regulation, requiring the exchange of mileage coupons for a ticket.

Attorney Hines says that carriers of passengers may eject from their conveyances all persons refusing to comply with reasonable regulations. He says that the present mileage book arrangement is reasonable, because the purchaser enters into a contract with the railway selling the mileage book. One of the terms of the contract is that coupons from these mileage books will not be honored on trains except at non-agency points or at station agencies not open for the sale of tickets.

The purchaser, says Attorney Hines, gets a reduced rate, and is bound by the terms of the special contract. He says in conclusion that the arrangement has already been submitted to and approved by the State Railroad Commission.—Atlanta Journal, May 1, 1925.

Mrs. B. W. Edwards of Columbus, who has been visiting Mrs. F. C. Bartlett for a few days, returned home this afternoon.

Miss Mattie Love Blau returned to her home in Columbia this afternoon, after a visit of several days to Mrs. F. C. Bartlett. Miss Blau is one of the most lovable young ladies who visit Dothan and numbers her friends by her acquaintances.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE MOON TONIGHT

Tonight at about seven o'clock the moon will rise in total eclipse. This is the first time in a number of years that the moon has done such a dark deed in Houston county. This old fellow, the friend of lovers since the first flight of years began, has done all he could for the Dothan boys. In Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter he has sent his silvery rays to gild all nature, to sift down through trees into secluded spots and play in the curling tresses of their best girl's face surrounding her fair form with a witching halo, pealing the mocking bird forth to sing a song of love from the bough above them. And yet, and yet, the most of them are still single.

Perhaps he is hiding his face in shame to see his best efforts count for nothing. Or perhaps he thinks that by leaving the porch, lawns, swings and hammocks in darkness for a few moments that the timid ones will find courage to tell what they have not even dared to write. Maybe he is hoping that when he peeps forth from behind his mask he will see things that will make his old heart beat with gladness.

It's another opportunity, boys.

QUITTERS.

The world has little use for a quitter—the fellow who starts and backs out because the creek is up; the fellow who starts to trim the hedge, blisters his hands and decides to let it go until spring; the boy who goes racing through his school books until he strikes principles and compound fractions, then wants to quit school to get a job; the girl who starts out to be a great musician and learns just enough to play ragtime to bewilder the fancies of some young ahead.

There is a big family of these quitters, but they are a sorry lot. They never want a job that takes time and patience. With the qualifications of a bill poster they would like to earn the salary of a railroad president. Their ideal is a job that requires two hours of easy labor each day, with Saturdays and holidays off. You will find them scattered up and down the road of human failure, turning back from the handle of the plow, complaining of their lot and of the world. They are clogs in the wheels, broken rails on the road, time killers, patience killers, forever wanting what they have not.

The people who accomplish things in this world are those who qualify themselves in spite of bad crop, high water and measles; who hang onto their work until failure turns to victory; whose courage rises as the difficulties thicken, and whose faces are forever turned toward the rising sun. It was not a bad plan, that of the Indians flinging their boys into rivers, where they had to swim or drown. The best thing any parent can do for his child is to compel him to finish what he undertakes. Keep him at it, no matter how much he cries and objects; make him do the thing he started to do. And the best thing any boy or girl can do is to do this very thing without being made to do it. Success is a good deal like habit. There is not much difference between failure and success. One quits and the other does not.—From Spare Moments.

Mrs. Lillian Parish entertained the Killistines.

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock Mrs. Lillian Parish entertained the "Killistines" at the home of her mother on North Lena street.

These twelve little maids played dominoes and had a good time generally. Cream and cake were served after the games.

We are told that the word "Killistine" means, or being interpreted, reads, "The pick of the fair," and we will give the boys a tip that more than one of these little girls bids fair to justify her membership in an organization bearing such a name.

Francis the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Stapleton is quite sick.

Mrs. F. C. Bartlett went to Columbus this afternoon to visit relatives for a few days.

NOT IN STOCK.

The Peddler's Parting Shot at the Aggressive Woman.

It was wash morning, and the kettle had boiled over, the baby had dropped a whole paper of blue into the rinse water, the wringer was not work, and her feet told of large, crooked noses, rawboned women of the house that a storm was brewing—outside the house as well as in. He came up the steps briefly and walked into the kitchen through the open door without much as saying, "By your leave."

"Mornin', madam. Want an comb, brushes, hairpins, table cloths, towels, lead pencils, tooth brushes or chewing gum?"

The peddler put his hat on the floor and began to open his pack but was brought up sharply by the first return fire.

"No, I don't. Nor I don't want any dime novels, nor chalk eggs, nor five cent calico, nor face powder nor delectated puzzles, nor lamp wicks, nor eye salve, nor corn plasters, nor imitation beezwax, no sperin candles, nor needle paper nor celluloid buttons."

"Just so. And I don't suppose it's any use to ask you whether you'd like to look at a bottle o' wrinkle fillin' for shop worn complexions?" he asked, buckling the straps again.

"Not a bit. And I know you haven't any books on good manner or you'd read 'em yourself occasion ally."

"None of the people I call on would appreciate 'em, madam. And now, if you think you'd have no use for the new patent megaphonic, telephonic, invisible car trumpet that you can fasten to your kitchen window and hear and distinguish clearly everything your neighbors say, or the famous and celebrated long range telescopic binoculars, with which you can positively see through four ply window glass and look directly into the kitchens of houses forty rods away, why, I'll be on my way again." And he picked up his pack cheerfully.

"Hold on!" exclaimed the lady, following him to the door. "I don't know but I'd look at them things—if they don't cost too much."

"All right, madam," rejoined the peddler, putting his hat on one side and hiking it down the garden path, "if I see any feller that's got 'em to sell I'll send him around."—New York Times.

Unrecorded history.

Brutus was haranguing the citizens.

"Upon what meat," he cried—"upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed that he is grown so great?"

Pausing for a moment for a reply, he was about to continue, when a man with a loud voice and flushed countenance arose in the front row and observed:

"He eats Quincius & Polonius' sugar cured hams and bacon, now on sale at all first class markets."

This, being a bald advertising scheme, was not given any prominence whatever in the reports of the occasion.—Chicago Post.

Her Opportunity.

Jose, a bright six-year-old boy, listened very intently while his mamma, on showing his new Norfolk suit which she had just finished, explained that she had never bought him a suit; she had made them. Jose was very quiet for a few moments, then said:

"It's a great thing for a woman to have children, so she can sew."—Delaware.

Children, fruiterers say, prefer black bananas with soft, discolored flesh to the yellow ones with white and firm flesh that are usually eaten, and thus the children show that the taste of the young is the healthy taste, for in banana land, say the fruiterers, wherever the banana grows there it is only eaten in a state that would be called spoiled here. In the tropics what we call a ripe banana would be called a green one. Its skin must turn black, its flesh must grow soft and brownish, before the tropic people or the tropic birds will touch it.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially of enlarged prostate gland which is very common among elderly men. L E Morris Dexter, Ky writes: 'Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint.' An Iowa preacher says there are twice as many preachers in the country as we need, and still he keeps at it.

Will Lee says he will surely stand by the good roads movement, and vote for it if Uncle Ben Forester will. We believe "Uncle Ben" will, if he consults his constituency.

Now is a mighty bad time for visitors to come to town, as the street paving hasn't started yet, and the water finds some trouble in getting away when it is spilt on the streets.

The Savannah News wants to know if there isn't another way of opening expositions than pressing a button, which duty always falls to the President. It doesn't matter so much who opens them, so the sheriff got to close them.

If the cotton acreage is out three and a third per cent, it is because it was measured up when the ground was dry in the spring. Now the wet weather is on, it will probably expand to about its usual size.

The Florida lawmakers took warning, and have passed the law making it a life imprisonment for the kidnaper. Florida, like Alabama, hasn't had any kidnaping trouble, at least right recently, but it is a good idea to make ready for it.

You often hear a man say, in speaking of rainy weather, that "If I owed a man a rainy day and he didn't accept this one, I wouldn't pay him." Yesterday was that day, and you know those who tried to pay up their debts, found they couldn't find anyone to whom they owed a rainy day, and so it was all for nothing.

A young woman of South Carolina had been complaining to her mother for some time about an uneasy feeling. She said there was something alive in her stomach, and she didn't know what it was. She was seized with a vomiting spell, and sure enough, she brought to the surface, a couple of lizards—water lizards, that had grown and become quite vigorous, since she drank them down from a spring, some time before. She says she is feeling much better now, and her folks hope that is all of the family of lizards.

A child was reformed of lying the other day by pulling a tooth. Don't agree with this method. The child can better take the punishment on some other part of his anatomy—he needs the teeth.

Dr. Leonard Wood took a run-and-jump twelve years ago right in the middle of army activities, and with the aid and assistance of the late ex-President, he turned hand springs over hundreds of older army officers, till now he stands at the top of the Sphinx—a feat other men have been laboriously trying to perform for forty years. Nothing like having a friend higher up.

SETTLED FACT.

It was but a few weeks ago when we said something about the possibility of Dothan having a city market, a place where one can go and buy all the market stuff, he is looking for, at one trip, a place where all the markets in building, at one time, and the customer wouldn't have to do anything but walk through and finger around among the meats, and pick out the kind of a roast he was roasting for.

Well, that small handful of seed sown has sprouted anyway, a city market is almost an assured fact. The lot has even been picked out. The building will be located on the vacant lot on the corner of St. Andrews and Troy streets, convenient, close in. The proposition is open for kicks, but kicking isn't apt to do much good. The thing is almost a settled fact. The place may not be settled, but it's next to it. The council has made up its mind to have a city market, and, so far, it hasn't changed its mind, when it was made up, at least not more than seemed absolutely necessary.

We don't know how the city markets are run but suppose some of the market men here know about it. We presume the first consideration is for the good of the people. The people are supposed to get better meats, cleaner meats, but more or less, we do not know.

To say the least of it, where it is all stored together, right under the eye as it were, there should be less cause for complaint and the inspector can walk around and jab his umbrella handle into it and make a thorough examination without having to visit the various sections of the town.

If it means better things for Dothan, in any way, we are for it.

HOT DOTHAN'S BABY

A few days ago, the report gained circulation that a freak baby was born in Dothan. No one in Dothan had heard of it, except as thereport came from other sections. Reports had it that the baby was hairy, had a pair of horns, and hoofs, and laughed and talked, and remarked about the weather just as soon as it got here. Dothan don't mind standing for most things, but when one hears such a story as this going over the country, it is but natural to want to find out about it, especially when it is taken up as seriously as the following item from yesterday's Montgomery Journal, from the Troy correspondent of that paper. Hear what it says:

"The rumors of the mysterious baby have been verified. E. Paul of Henderson, has just returned from a trip to Dothan and says he saw the body of the baby, which the physicians of Dothan are preserving in alcohol. He states that true to reports, its body is covered with hair, it has two horns above its ears, a tail and hoofs. Of course, the facts that it talked are very uncertain, but the baby really existed."

On seeing this in the Journal this morning, we felt a keen sense of resentment and went to taking the matter up with the Dothan physicians and tasked to find one who knew anything about it. Some said they had heard such a rumor but all such rumors placed the baby elsewhere. Several Dothan people during the last few days, have been asked about the freak baby when away from home. So it would seem that we are being accused of having a baby here that really doesn't exist at all, and if it does, it has never been a Dothan baby, and has never been here. Mr. E. Paul, late of Henderson to the contrary notwithstanding. If Mr. Paul will kindly come forward with affidavits showing where he saw the freak, in whose office, giving dates and names, we will gladly own up to the baby, and accept it as a Dothan product. This is not Kansas, this town is not Mole St. Nicholas nor is it the Borneo of circus fame, and we don't propose to take a baby that may or may not belong to some other section, and coddle it as our own, even if reporters make it an uncommon baby. We Dothan folks will be asked about that baby wherever we go if this nefarious plot isn't nipped in the bud
